After recently reviewing my credit report I noticed several inconsistencies regarding the account (FED LOAN SERV - 123456XXXX) in the (BALANCE) & (PAYMENT STATUS) section. Equifax is reporting a balance of $4918 with a derogatory payment status, Experian is reporting a balance of $2356 with a current payment status and TransUnion is reporting a balance of $3239 with not applicable as the payment status now all three of these balances can't be accurate. These accounts appear to be furnished by the same creditor so why is all the provided data different? It is your duty to ensure that all information reported is consistent and most importantly accurate and you have failed to do so. Please DELETE this erroneous item immediately.

Below you will find a screenshot of the account.
